NOGAS December 2013 Newsletter

Finally! We are seeing the leaves begin to fall and have started our clean-ups. Did you know that in order for the leaves to fall, you need a few good rains? It's true! The tree naturally stops sending food to the leaves and the stem becomes "corky". When the rain falls, it is heavy enough to finish the separation. Voila! The leaves drop! We are always happy to see some consistent rainfall in November.

Our maintenance crews are no longer following the summer schedule, and are now visiting properties about every ten days. The grass growth has slowed and will be turning toward dormancy soon. Should you have any special requests for our final month of mowing, please contact our office, and we will be happy to speak with you.

We are putting the finishing touches on our snow schedule; if you have not sent in your contract, please do so as soon as possible, so that we can ensure you are on the schedule. Who knows how the snow will fall? It has been light in the past, yet this could be the year for a big snowfall!

Noga's has a new addition to the family! Jinger Bartolini has joined our team, and will be helping with contracts, walk-throughs, quality control and flower arrangements. She is a certified horticulturist, with 9 years experience in the field. We are confident she will prove to be a beneficial addition to our team!

Fun Fact: The average snowflake falls at speed of 3.1 miles per hour
